

PexCor Acquired by Mueller Industries

CALGARY— June 6, 2017

PexCor's ownership and management team are pleased to announce that PexCor Manufacturing Company Inc., and its affiliated distribution company HeatLink Group Inc., have been acquired by Mueller Industries Inc. [NYSE:MLI]. Co-owners Manfred and Garry Schmidt will continue to lead the Company with the goal of growing the company's product platform and geographical footprint.

PexCor and HeatLink will complement the wide range of products that comprise the Piping Systems Group of Mueller Industries. The acquisition of PexCor supports Mueller's strategy to expand in the pressure plastic products arena with innovative piping and flow control solutions.

Mueller Industries is a publicly traded manufacturer headquartered in Memphis Tennessee that began operating in 1917 and has operations across the USA, Canada, Great Britain, Mexico, South Korea, and China.

PexCor Manufacturing Company Inc. is a leading manufacturer of PEX-a tubing and pre-fabricated mechanical panels. Our international reputation has been built on more than 25 years of experience, innovation and industry leadership.
